Thank you – it's because you care that we can.

We're using this giant Christmas card to send season's greetings to each other – and using the money we've saved on buying cards to make a donation to Severn Hospice instead.

Donating to Severn Hospice at Christmas is a gift that lasts all year. Since last Christmas, its caring compassion has helped around 3,000 local families living with incurable illness.

All that care is given completely free of charge, but it is not without cost.

Any donation you can make in the collection box – or online – is turned into something real that makes a difference to families and their loved ones going through the most difficult of times. Thank you.

HOW TO SHARE YOUR CHRISTMAS WISHES

Swap Christmas cards for something a little more meaningful this year. Our Christmas Wishes poster is filled with speech bubbles ready for festive messages, kind words and Christmas cheer. It's a simple way to bring colleagues, friends and supporters together, spread a little joy and support local hospice care at the same time.

How it works

Display your Christmas Wishes poster in a communal area where everyone can see it.

Instead of sending Christmas cards, invite colleagues to write festive messages, thank yous and good wishes in the speech bubbles.

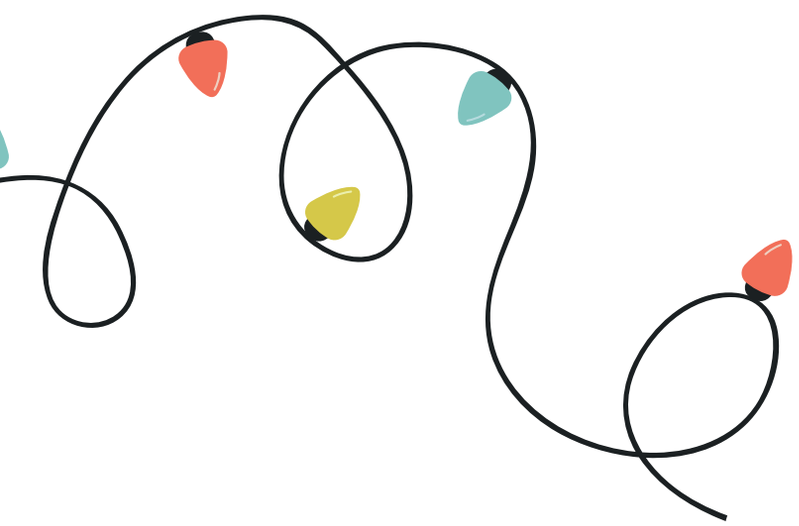

Place a collection tin or donation box alongside the poster and encourage people to donate what they might have spent on Christmas cards.

Watch your poster fill up with festive cheer, heartfelt messages and acts of kindness.

Top tips

We can provide collection boxes for you to borrow, or you could have fun decorating your own.
